ous. Our sheep and wool interests are very large and under the recent advance have gone ahead rapidly, and will prove to add : extremely profitable during the coming year. And then the sugar best experiment on the Peces, which has proved so successful, has greatly stimulated our agstoccaseful, has greatly stimulated our ag-sionicural interests. The factory is now him out, for 'tis much the better plan to selling its raw sugar to Eastearn reducries and the area is being increased. We are endeavoying to accure the eraction of a others of his kind. Yes, verily—there factory at Santa Fe, which would be fur-are others. factory at Santa Fe, which would be furnished with beets from the valley. We fave 3,000 acres or more already under water, and if we could secure capital to erect a factory we would soon have 6,000 or 7,000 acres devoted to beet culture in the immediate vicinity of Santa Fe. Many people do not grasp the fact that Naw Mexico has 78,000,000 acres of land, a very small portion of which is occupied and therefore, have a very crude idea of what we can do hen we can induce capital to come has the territory. In mining there are two things which have heretofore retarded develo, ment—the land grant situation and the lack of transporgrant situation and the lack of transpor tation facilities. The former is being operation of the Court of Private Land Claims at Santa Fe, and the settlement of the questions involved in either direct will be of great benefit to the minin lidustry. The owners of the Maxwe grant are even more liberal to pro then the United States, and I think the general disposition of grant claimants is to give miners opportunity possible for the development of the mineral wealth of the territory. I think that the district in the northern part of the territory which includes Hopewell, Teas, La Belie Occhiti and Elizabethtown, will, with proper development, prove to be one of the richtest in the West. The miners are there beyond question and all that is asseded is the proper work and capital to bring them out. One misfortune is that there has been so little real mining done In the territory. The miners there do not seem to go at it with the energy that you have in Colorado. They just scratch around on the top of the ground, and there has been but very little deep min-ing done."

John Tuliy, the second of the two men wanted for the murders and sitempted assassinations committed in the western pertien of the county, was captured into funday night. Tully surrendered only after a pi. hed battle lacting during the entire day, and when almost exhausted by thirst and hunger. His companion, Mant Children, was hilled by the same poste while resisting arrest near the same place two weeks ago.
